

PLANE TALK

VOLUME 3, NO. 3
FALL 1994

On 1 October 1994 the War Eagles Air Museum celebrated its fifth anniversary with a banquet honoring its founders, its staff and its volunteers.

The museum, unique in that it is operated in large part, by a very dedicated group of volunteers (46 in number) was created for the collection, restoration and display of military aircraft of World War II and the Korean Conflict.

John and Betty MacGuire, the museums' founders, leave all of its operation to the museum director "Skip" Trammell, other members of the staff and the volunteers without whom, according to "Skip," the museum could not function.

Volunteer activities include running the gift shop, conducting guided tours, assisting the rebuilding and maintenance of the museums' aircraft and vehicles, and aiding students of from local schools in doing aviation related research.

Special recognition with presentation of plaques was made to: Jack Bell, Guy Dority, Dario Toffenetti, Tom Blackwell and Bill Tullos for their many hours of work on special projects. Certificates of Appreciation along with engraved pens were also awarded
